

<Marine Organism Rearing Log>

9 AM, January 16, 2023

Weather: Rainny

Water temperature: 18.0°C

As observed from the standpoint of an expert, there was a cut at the head shell of the dead abalone and the mantle was also found lost. Since these injuries are the cause of death, and the area around the cut turned brown, the date of injury looks to be several months ago, when they were transported to the power station.

