Weather: Sunny

Water temperature: 18.5°C

At the rearing site, one of the caretakers has handcrafted a keychain with the picture of a flounder which we have recently introduced as an alternative to a caretaker's card. Since the worker who designed it is a good photographer, he will be recording the growth of the flounders as an "honorary rearing publicist". We wonder if we will like this flounder even more if it has a name.
